

Peckham I-Spy Detective Trail

This I-Spy focuses on Peckham Town Centre and is designed to encourage participants to be architectural detectives, looking closely at the wealth of interesting buildings and architectural details that can be found there. The first sheet should be given to participants who can plot their finds on the map as they go. The blank box at the bottom right is for people to draw another detail they have found and mark that on the map as well. The second sheet is a key for the walk leader and the following sheets provide some information on the buildings. Have fun!

- Our Hut Peckham THI Resources

www.ourhut.co.uk

Peckham I-Spy Detective Trail

On our walk, look out for all the details shown in the pictures. When you find them, draw a line to show where they are on the map. Find another detail you like, draw it in the blank box at the bottom and mark it on the map

Good luck, Detectives!

- Our Hut Peckham THI Resources

Peckham I-Spy Detective Trail: Key

- Our Hut Peckham THI Resources

Peckham I-Spy Detective Trail: Information

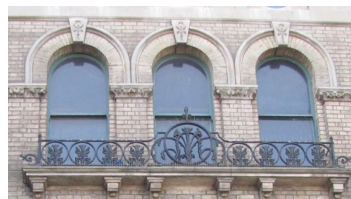

Decoration on HSBC bank, formerly the South end of Jones & Higgins department store

The Greyhound Pub built in 1880s

Aylesham Centre built in 1985 and now earmarked for redevelopment

Peckham Rye Station built 1865

Above Crackerjack Shop – originally house built in 1730 with a garden where shop front is now

Clock on original Jones & Higgins department store building 1894. The clock stopped after the building closed in the 1980s but has recently been repaired and works again

Above Mighty Pound shop. Originally built for C&A in 1949 but in earlier Art Deco style

Peckham I-Spy Detective Trail: Information

Now above Paddy Power betting shop but originally The Hope Public House 1880s.

Pediment on Rye Lane Chapel with Roman numerals to indicate date of building, 1863.

Mosaic pavement in front of Clarks Shoes, originally Sainsbury's. Pavement and shop front remain as originally built in 1931.

Part of Peckham Peace Wall in Peckham Square, a public artwork celebrating Peckham after the riots in 2011.

Decoration on building above McDonalds, Rye Lane originally built in 1930 for C&A Modes.

Rear façade of Peckham Library built in 1999.